

SAMUEL HEATH

for a life less ordinary

FEMININE XIARA COMBINES STUNNING DESIGN AND SUPERIOR PERFORMANCE

Designed with nature and elegance in mind, Xiara is the beautifully crafted new bathroom range from British manufacturer Samuel Heath.

Encompassing taps, showers and accessories, Xiara is a contemporary take on minimalist brassware design. Made from the purest Northern European brass, each element has been pared down to give a pure, refined approach to design; retaining modern simplicity with subtle curvilinear forms that are feminine and precise.

The result is a soft and fluid collection, intricately designed, hand polished and crafted to perfection with a finish that has the depth of glass.

Technological advancements have allowed for complex lines, sympathetic to the forms of nature, and superior performance, ensuring that the range is both modern and stylish without compromise.

Vanessa Allan, marketing manager at Samuel Heath comments: "We are entering a new era that demands a higher degree of usability, honesty and environmental concern. Whilst design remains the predominant reason for purchase, consumers are increasingly aware of the issues surrounding sustainability and are looking for products that offer great performance and durability."

"Sustainability and authenticity have always been at the core of the Samuel Heath ethos and Xiara represents this commitment in its unique design. Manufactured using the most advanced engineering technology; the range offers the best in both style and design flexibility.

"Each product comes with a ten year finish guarantee and Xiara's stunning finish is built to stand the test of time in any bathroom environment, from the personal sanctuary to boutique hotels as well as commercial interiors."

The Xiara collection has been specifically designed to complement the current movement towards smaller, softer fittings. Each piece is made from the highest quality brass, manufactured in an energy efficient process that produces minimal waste and the products are almost completely recyclable.

Samuel Heath continues to combine innovative design and authentic craftsmanship to produce beautiful bathroom fittings, specified by homeowners, architects and interior designers worldwide.

For more information please call 0121 766 4200 or visit www.samuel-heath.com